EGG CRATE SHORTAGE CAUSING MUCH TROUBLE

The shortage of egg crates is causing merchants who buy eggs no end of trouble, because they are finding it more difficult from time to time to find places in which to store the eggs and they cannot be shipped except in crates.

The government has an egg buying program but they are not furnishing any crates and again the matter of disposing of the surplus supply in suitable containers is causing the dealers to find it almost impossible to ship to the government. As a result of the glut in the market, the price has dropped considerably below the point of production cost and the producer is wondering what he will do with them, as the hen crop seems to be determined to continue the heavy production schedule.

BROTHER OF GREENCASTLE WOMAN GETS AIR MEDAL

AN EIGHTH AAF BOMBER STATION, England—The Air Medal with one oak leaf cluster has been awarded Sgt. Frederick J. Hale, waist gunner on a B-17 Flying Fortress for "meritorious achievement" on twenty five combat missions over enemy Europe.

Sgt. Hale, 23 years old is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Hale of Spencer and a brother of Mrs. Helen Hetser, 13 Chestnut street, Greencastle. Sgt. Hale's wife is Mrs. Joyce V. Hale of Argyle, Wis.

The citation accompanying the award read in part: "The courage, coolness and skill displayed by this enlisted man upon these occasions reflect great credit upon himself and the Armed Forces of the United States."

REVEAL GENERAL'S SECRET PARLEY WITH PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, May 13.—As a preliminary to the new allied offensive now under way in Italy, Lt. Gen. Mark Clark, commander of the Fifth Army, recently made a secret trip to this country and conferred with President Roosevelt.

It was learned that Clark went secretly to Mr. Roosevelt's vacation hideaway on the plantation of Bernard M. Baruch in South Carolina. The general is now back in Italy directing a major segment of the new offensive.

Mrs. Oscar Sallust was hostess to the Veronica Club.
Mr. and Mrs. Rollie Dobbs and Mrs. Walter Williams were in Bloomington for the day.

JEEP GETS "MISSION" CITATION

IT ISN'T UNUSUAL when a submarine or a plane is decorated, but when a jeep gets a swastika in token of a "mission" . . . well, that's news! This one did! It was piloted by S/Sgt. Walton Reed of Boise, Idaho, stationed in England, who points out the insignia which represents one German airplane, captured by Reed when he parachuted to earth from his JU-88, which had been shot down. Reed, an MP, spotted the parachute floating to earth, drove to the spot in his jeep and took the Nazi prisoner.

Lieut. Charles J. Arnold in Fourth Wave Of Landing Forces in South Pacific Fighting

By Charles J. Arnold

AITAPE, New Guinea, March 25.—(Delayed)—Sgt. Bill Kaiser of Greencastle, Indiana, tossed a sour look at three Japanese prisoners he had in tow and commented what a shame it was to bring them back alive.

Kaiser, a veteran military policeman who has seen months of service in the Southwest Pacific, stared steadily at the rain-soaked sons of heaven.

"Sure as hell somebody will take a shot at them," he said. Members of the shore party threw nasty glances at the prisoners. The Japs huddled beneath a tarpaulin, partially shielded against a drizzling rain which drew finer lines of irritation we felt in rain-soaked discomfort.

Kaiser, another guard, four war correspondents and myself had been sitting on the beach since dawn sweating out a ship which would return us to a rear base.

The prisoners, a major, a lieutenant and a private—had little to say and much to think about. All three runt-sized Japanese were having their eyes opened by the scope and power of the Yank invasion.

Two Americans, wounded in a night attack by Japanese against our forces on Ali island, were lifted gently from an amphibious tractor. The tractor crew spotted the prisoners; fingers itched at the triggers of their carbines.

Kaiser and his side-kick took positions in front of the Japs. A Yank muttered: "Why the hell are they sending those bastards back alive?" The tension did not snap until our party, the military police and the prisoners, dubbed "Winkum, Blinkum and Nod," were aboard a duck loaded toward a ship.

The Japanese brightened considerably as we pulled away from the beach. Sergeant Kaiser lowered his carbine and took a seat in the aft end of the amphibious truck.

Although it was still raining it didn't seem so irritating now.

Aboard ship all of us headed for the showers to wash away the accumulation of four days and five nights of what the infantry calls "field conditions." My coveralls stood in the corner without visible support while I scrubbed off sand and mud and eradicated evidences of K ration in the vicinity of my ears.

American forces which landed near Aitape on the 22nd captured the Jap-built airstrips the first day and then fanned out looking for Japs who apparently took to the hills after the first explosion of the naval and aerial bombardment.

Spencer Davis of the Associated Press, Tom Shafer of Acme Newspictures and I were aboard an LCT in the fourth wave to hit the beach. We jumped ashore seconds before three tanks rumbled off the landing craft and punched inland toward the airstrips.

Wading ashore I saw elements of the previous waves of troops squatting in the sand protected from something (I could not see what). My question was answered when the crackle of small arms fire sent me flopping behind a shattered coconut log.

First thing I did was jam my carbine in the sand. That helped a lot. My pack rested on my neck, pushing my helmet over my eyes. That helped too.

Intrepid Davis stood up and watched an amphibian tractor smash a pill box 15 yards ahead. Yanks poured tommy gun and carbine fire in the opening. Somebody yelled and a figure emerged from the opening. Another followed. Then another. Finally all seven of them were out, hands in air.

I glanced to my right. Four yards away a foot protruded from a grenade pill box. More bullets whistled overhead as other Japs behind our advancing troops decided to come out or take a shot.

Personally, my spot on the beach was mighty comfortable and all I could gain by walking around would be tired feet. More Japs and Japanese workers (kidnapped by Tojo to work the airstrips) were neutralized a few yards ahead.

Davis and I then set off down the beach after the infantry. We passed a kitchen. The soup was still warm, ready for a breakfast the Japanese never ate. Davis picked up a wad of invasion money from a shattered hut. I gazed wistfully at a warehouse full of sake, beer and bottled cider. I grabbed a bottle of cider—the bottle was small and already I was leaded down with enough equipment to fix a regiment.

By nightfall all immediate objectives were under our control. On subsequent days patrols fanned out to the east, west and south, finding a few Japs here and there.

At dawn the following day George Bick, Yank Magazine correspondent, and I, clambered on an amphibian tractor and took off after the infantry pushing into Aitape, about eight miles east of the landing point. If the Japs decided to defend the high ground just east of the village of Aitape we might have to work a little to get them out.

There were four Japs on the ridge above Aitape when the infantry started up the grade. They started running and three of them stopped—dead. The fourth, wounded, had not been found by nightfall.

Bick and I labored up the hill about 10 minutes after the third Jap died and watched sweating infantrymen probe the bullet-ridden shell of a prewar European type house which had been used by the Japs as officers' quarters.

Near the verandah the Japs had set up a heavy machine-gun placed in a position which gave them a broad field of fire covering the trail airstrips.

CHICKENS AND STILL MORE CHICKENS SAYS "CRUMPY"

Lawrence Crump, local postal employee and expert gardener, has gone into the chicken business a way that he never dreamed of doing before. He "set" an old hen on a certain number of eggs. Mr. Crump was more than surprised to learn that his eggs produced more chickens than there were eggs, and he is hard to convince that he cannot count up to fifteen.

PLANE SPANS CONTINENT IN 6 HOURS, 31 MIN.

COL. PETERSON ESTABLISHES
NEW RECORD IN COAST TO COAST FLIGHT

NEW YORK, May 13 (UP)—A new transcontinental airplane speed record was established Friday when Col. Clair A. Peterson of Fargo, N. D., flew a P-51 Mustang fighter plane here from Inglewood, Cal., in the elapsed time of 6 hours, 31 minutes and 30 seconds. Peterson left Inglewood, near Los Angeles, at 9:01 A. M., Eastern War Time, and reached La Guardia Field here at 3:32 P. M., Eastern War Time, making one stop, at Kansas City. The average speed was estimated unofficially at 378.54 miles per hour.

A second Mustang fighter, making the same flight nonstop, arrived over La Guardia Field seven minutes later, also breaking the record of 7 hours, 28 minutes and 25 seconds established by Howard Hughes in a flight from Burbank, Cal., to Newark on Jan. 19, 1937.

The flights were made over the great circle course of 2,464 miles. As Colonel Peterson swerved slightly to make the landing at Kansas City, it was estimated he added six miles to his distance.

Colonel Peterson is the personal pilot to Gen. H. H. Arnold, commander of the United States Army Air Forces. The second Mustang was piloted by Lt. Col. Jack H. Carter, Pasadena, Cal.

Carter, who left Inglewood at 9 A. M., one minute ahead of Peterson, was clocked into La Guardia Field in 6 hours, 39 minutes and 30 seconds.

The test flight, which the Army said was conducted in connection with regular ferrying operations of stock airplanes from the Inglewood plant of the North American Aviation Corporation, was timed officially by the National Aeronautical Association.

The planes carried full combat equipment and carried spare fuel tanks which were discarded when empty.

Mrs. Hazel Keck Called By Death

Mrs. Hazel Allen Keck, 47, a life long resident of New Maysville, died Friday evening at 6:15 o'clock at the Putnam county hospital.

She was born on Aug. 2, 1896 and was the daughter of Samuel and Mary Leffew Allen. In 1917 she was married to Charles Keck.

Survivors include: a son Kenneth, a daughter Ida, and a granddaughter Carolyn Jane, all of New Maysville.

Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Chaastain Funeral Home and burial will be in the New Maysville cemetery.

FLINT SCHOOLS CLOSED AS 921 TEACHERS STRIKE

FLINT, Mich., May 13.—(UP)—The Flint Board of Education was weighing issues involved in a strike of 921 teachers and 200 maintenance men whose walkout closed the city's 35 schools for an unexpected holiday. Both maintenance men and teachers are demanding salary adjustments and the latter wants a shortened work week.

GETS SHORT SNORTER BILL

William Irwin has received a short snorter dollar bill sent to him by Robert Fenn, who is stationed at San Francisco. Fenn, who is a naval navigator on a ship flying from San Francisco to Honolulu and thence to Brisbane, Australia, obtained the dollar bill, which is a Hawaiian bill, U. S. currency, on one of his overseas trips.

One of the signatures is that of the pilot of the plane, Lee Wilson, who was graduated from Kelly Field, San Antonio, in 1931 and who was a student under Captain Frank Irwin.

REDS KILLED OR CAPTURED 110,000 ENEMY SOLDIERS

TOOK HEAVY TOLL OF NAZIS
IN RECENT CRIMEAN CAMPAIGN

LONDON, May 13.—(UP)—Red Army forces in their greatest single bag since Stalingrad, killed or captured more than 110,000 enemy troops in the thirty-five-day Crimean campaign which ended today with the liquidation of the last Nazi bridgehead at Cape Chersonese, Moscow announced tonight.

More than 44,000 German and Romanian troops were killed or captured during the final six days of the campaign, including the capture of Sevastopol on Tuesday, the Soviet Information Bureau announced according to the Moscow radio.

The regular broadcast Soviet war bulletin announced that veteran troops of Gen. Feodor I. Tolbukhin's Fourth Ukrainian Army officially ended the Crimean drive today when they wiped out the last enemy remnants which had been holding out on Cape Chersonese, seven miles southwest of Sevastopol.

Troops of Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky's Third Ukrainian Army meanwhile turned back fresh German counterattacks against the Soviet bridgehead on the west bank of the lower Dneestr River opposite Chisinau (Kishinev), Bessarabia, killing more than 4,000 of the enemy and wrecking 100 tanks in two days.

The Germans, trying to erase a springboard northwest of Tiraspol, for the second successive day sent large forces of infantry and tanks into action, but all assaults were repelled with heavy losses to the enemy, Moscow said.

Open House Held For War Mothers

The members of the American Legion auxiliary entertained with a Mother's Day tea on Thursday afternoon in the American Legion home on Walnut street.

The affair was given in honor of Mothers Day and all mothers of service men and women in Putnam county were invited to attend. During the afternoon about one hundred guests called at the home.

Each guest was asked to register at the door and to state the number of sons and daughters serving in the present war and also in World War I.

Mrs. Lemnick, president of the American Legion Auxiliary presented each Gold Star mother with a lovely corsage as a token of honor and esteem from the members of the auxiliary.

Miss Reva O'Hair talented musician played an enjoyable group of selections on the harp during the afternoon.

The Legion parlors were beautifully decorated for the occasion and spring flowers were used through out the rooms.

The long tea table which was set across the dining room was lovely with tall gold candles in silver holders and a large silver bowl of tulips and spirea forming a centerpiece.

Mrs. Warren Newgent, a mother of sons of World War I, and Mrs. Roy Thomas, a mother of sons of the present war, presided at the tea table.

The committee in charge of all arrangements were Mrs. Leo Conrad, Mrs. O. W. Hollowell, wife of the American Legion commander, Mrs. Paul Canary, Mrs. Perry Rush, Mrs. Frank Stoessel, Mrs. Paul Grimes, Mrs. Leo Brendle and Mrs. Russell Pierce.

FIGHTING RAGES ALONG ENTIRE ITALIAN FRONT

ALLIED ARMIES DRIVE GER-
MANS FROM FIRST LINE
DEFENSE POSITIONS

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, May 13 (UP)—The Allied Fifth and Eighth Armies have driven the enemy from his first line of defense on the Italian front and heavy fighting is in progress, a communique announced today.

"The attack by the Fifth and Eighth armies against the Gustav line during the night of May 11-12 has driven the enemy out of the first line and heavy fighting is in progress along the whole front which was attacked," the brief communique said.

A naval communique reported that American destroyers and a British cruiser shelled the Apennine way, the Terracina area and enemy artillery in the Gaeta area, all along the Tyrrhenian sea.

It also was disclosed officially that the German first parachute division made successive counterattacks in the sector north of Cassino.

Truk Rocked By New Air Blows

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS
Southwest Pacific, May 13.—(UP)—

The aerial power of four American Pacific forces has been concentrated in the growing campaign to neutralize Truk and its protective Caroline bases, it was disclosed today as long-range Liberators carried out the 45th U. S. attack on the strategic enemy bastion.

The new raid by Seventh Army Air Force bombers, which battered Truk in two waves Thursday, was a follow up of an attack the previous day by South Pacific Liberators which destroyed eight Japanese planes and probably two others when they fought their way through 30 enemy interceptors.

The blows on the former big enemy base were announced in communique by Gen. Douglas MacArthur and Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, who have joined in hurling their aerial forces in almost continuous strikes at the Carolines.

To Compete For DePauw Awards

One hundred and ten high school seniors from eight states will take competitive examinations for President's Scholarships at DePauw University on Saturday, May 20.

Fourteen scholarships, ten in liberal arts and four in the school of music, will be awarded winning contestants. Each scholarship is worth $200. Candidates rank in the upper quarter of their high school classes and will be judged on the basis of a general aptitude test and personal interviews. Contestants for music awards will be given auditions.

President Clyde E. Wildman of DePauw will greet contestants at 9 a. m., examinations will be given at 10 a. m. in Minshall Laboratory, and personal interviews will be held at 11 a. m. A noon luncheon has been scheduled in Mason Hall. Contestants will be the guests of the university at an all-college mixer Saturday evening.

BELGIUM FEELS AIR MIGHT OF ALLIED BLITZ

GERMAN TARGETS IN BELGIUM
FOUNDED LAST NIGHT AND TODAY

LONDON, May 13.—(UP)—The RAF shifted the main weight of the Allies' pre-invasion bombardment of Western Europe to Belgium last night and early today, dropping more than 2,000 tons of block busters on the railway center of Louvain and Hasselt.

More than 500 of Britain's heavy weights of the air ripped up tracks, wrecked rolling stock and damaged other railway installations at the two junctions, which control lines radiating to the Belgian and Dutch coasts. Louvain lies 15 miles north-east of Brussels, while Hasselt is 45 miles east of the Belgian capital.

Carrying the mightiest aerial offensive in history into its 27th straight day, other RAF night raiders attacked Germany's vast wall defenses and other objectives in France and northwest Germany.

Inhabitants of the English south-east coast said some of the formations made another "earthquake raid" on an objective some distance behind the French invasion coast. The attack was so violent that it shook the English shore.

Fourteen bombers were lost in the night's raids and in mine-laying operations.

AMERICAN SUBS SINK 14 MORE JAP SHIPS

WASHINGTON, May 13.—(UP)—American submarines have sunk fourteen more Japanese ships, including a destroyer and two tankers, in their historic battle of attrition against the enemy's embattled supply lines, the Navy disclosed.

The successes raised to 558 the number of Jap ships sunk by United States submarines alone since Pearl Harbor, and to at least 1,399 the number of Nipponese vessels destroyed by American forces in the Pacific war thus far. The overall total does not include an estimated 1,300 barges and scores of lesser vessels.

Besides the destroyer and two tankers, the latest catch included one transport, two medium cargo transports and eight cargo ships. It was not indicated whether the transport was carrying troops.

All the vessels listed as sunk in the Navy communique were of a type sorely needed by the Japanese to maintain their far-flung Pacific outposts. So severe has been the rate of attrition upon the Japanese that for nearly a year they have been compelled to rely upon barges for transporting troops and supplies.

DIES TO RETIRE

WASHINGTON, May 13.—(UP)—The sudden and unexpected decision of Rep. Martin Dies, D. Tex., to retire from Congress when his present term expires left in doubt today the future of the special committee investigating un-American activities over which he has presided since May, 1938.

Dies announced yesterday in Texas, after seeing a throat specialist, that an ailment of serious nature forced him to make the decision. He visited the specialist after he lost his voice during a speaking tour.

There is no doubt that the un-American activities investigation will continue through the present Congress in the same tenor that has characterized it since it began. But beyond that, there is a real question as to whether it will be renewed by the new Congress next year.

Information Bulletin BY GREENCASTLE COUNCIL of CLUBS

(Excerpts from "Your Heart's in Your Own Hands," by Peter J. Steinhilber, M. D., Hygeia, May, 1944.)

All heart trouble isn't serious. Three out of four fearful persons who walk into the doctor's office have normal hearts. A fleeting pain in the left chest ("it's right over my heart"); the recent loss of a relative or friend ("why, I saw Jack only yesterday and he looked perfectly healthy"); the desire for reassurance ("there's so much heart trouble around, doctor")—these are only a few of the things that strike fear into healthy people.

On the other hand, many people who actually have heart disease don't visit their physicians for a check up. John Jones refuses to chance "hearing the bad news." John Brown uses these excuses: "It's just because I'm slowing up" or "It's only indigestion." Yet the "acute indigestion" reported in former years was often heart disease.

There are many kinds of heart disease: congenital, rheumatic, syphilitic, arteriosclerotic, bacterial, among others. They are in many ways different. Medicine has appropriate drugs for each, but there is only one basic treatment. Call it a Way of Life. Without it most other treatment is useless.

Here is a simple formula, for the healthy as well as the heart-sick, that guarantees a smoother trip along the road to longevity.

First: Visit your doctor for a physical checkup if you have any of the following symptoms: chronic coughing, spitting up blood, fainting spells, asthmatic attacks, swelling of ankles, gas pressure, tiredness, indigestion, palpitation, rapid pulse, shortness of breath, chest pain, dizziness, or inability to lie flat in bed.

Second: Listen only to what the doctor says. Specific advice for the individual should not come from sympathetic but untrained friends from papers, periodicals or books.

Third: If there is a heart condition, get plenty of rest—rest—more rest. This is the prescription par excellence for the tired heart.

Too often I have seen patients take their medicine faithfully—measure it out drop by drop—yet be careless about their rest. Learn to sit down whenever it is possible instead of standing; to lie down instead of sitting; to walk instead of run; to develop an aversion to climbing stairs; to curb excitement. Learn all this and stick to it, and you have laid the foundation for the successful treatment of your heart condition—whatever type it is. In no other disease is it so true that he who knows how to rest lives longest.

LT. ARNOLD WRITES
up the ridge from the bridge. Ammunition was piled around it. But one screw from the base plate of the gun was missing. It never fired a shot.

A few yards down the ridge happy logfaces were doing a workman-like job on a Japanese storehouse in a cave. Like shopping in a bargain basement they pulled, hauled and haggled over items of equipment, clothing and personal effects which once belonged to some Japanese Marines.

Others, too tired toicker over ouvenits in the mid-day heat, nibbled at K rations with customary boredom.

An officer said he'd had enough walking for one day and started prospecting for a site to dig in for the night. Bick and I sprinted for an alligator (amphibian tractor) which roared to life and pushed its blunt snout westward toward the beachhead.

Two days later newspapermen, public relations officers and Japanese prisoners embarked for "civilization."

I don't think Bill Kaiser is any happier now than when he boarded the ship.

Enroute to the point of debarkation the Japanese major developed malaria. Anyway the man was shaking, and it was not Bill's idea to scare the man to death.

MOTHER'S DAY

Dedicated to the mothers of the land by Charles Bradtkie
A Sunday was set aside in May. And it's known to us as Mother's Day.
A day when everyone in this land Should bow a prayer, in reverence stand.

Give her this day that she'll understand
Childbirth was not in gain it was grand,
Give her a gift you know she'll adore,
Hope and admiration you'll then restore.

On this day give her words of courage
That from the load she will not discourage,
With words of love we can well erase
The lines or care that wrinkled her face.

We doff our hats to Mother dear,
Whose loving heart is always near;
We bless you, dear old weary soul
Where lines of care now show their toll.

We come to greet you on this day,
We kiss your noble head so gray,
A flower in God's kingdom grew
We brought today and just for you.

Raising us was no sinecure
Cares and woe you had to endure
The things you had to sacrifice
Should warrant you a place in paradise.

Bless the Mothers neath mounds sleeping,
Their souls are now within God's keeping,
They died but they lived not in vain,
They bore their fruit through suffering and pain.

Jimmy Cowser, a pupil of second grade at the Ridpath School is absent with serious ear trouble.

The children in Mrs. Walker's first grade room at the Ridpath School enjoyed a party given by Marilyn Kay Hinkle Friday, May 12, celebrating her seventh birthday.

Kay served refreshments of individual ice cream and helpings of her birthday cake, assisted by her mother and her grandmother, Mrs. Fred Long. The children were given colorful paper hats as favors which they wore during the party.

Jones School

After a study of a unit on "The Circus" the children of grade two of Jones School made a "movie" of a circus parade. The children of Miss Michael's room were invited to see the movie.

Wednesday afternoon the pupils of Jones School were treated with Eskimo pies by the Parent Teachers Association.

Miller School

Eugenia Moore, fifth grade of Miller School, who has recently entered from Salt Lake City, Utah, gave a very interesting report Wednesday to her room regarding the schools and the Mormon Temple of Salt Lake to the children of her class.

Fifth grade of Miller School was hostess to the fifth grade of Ridpath School Thursday afternoon during the music hour. Misses Crump and Madsen, practice teachers of DePauw had charge of the classes.

Doris Elmore of Miller School gave a very interesting book review to the fifth grade this week. The book reviewed was "Skipper the Guide Dog."

Mrs. Annie Buchanan of Detroit, Mich., is a patient in the county hospital.

RATION NOTES

Tire Inspection Records Must Be Kept

While the requirement for periodical inspections of the tires of passenger cars has been relinquished, it does not mean that the time inspection records should be disposed of. All passenger car owners should preserve their tire inspection records. These record slips were issued to passenger car owners at the time the "A" gasoline ration book was issued. It will be impossible to secure supplemental gasoline allotments or tire replacements without having the tire inspection records. All applications for gasoline allotments for occupational use as well as all tire applications must be accompanied by the tire inspection record.

Red Ration Point Reduction

During the point free holiday on meat with the exception of beef steak and roast the number of red points coming into validity during the month's period has been reduced from sixty to thirty points. Since most meat is now free of point value the need for red points has been reduced. Red stamps number 8 from A through T are now valid for 10 points each and will remain so indefinitely. The next red stamps will not become valid until June 3.

New Tire Eligibility Requirement

"B" and "C" gasoline ration holders are not automatically eligible for a Tire Ration Certificate. In order to secure a certificate an applicant must show absolute need to carry on essential activities. Even then tire certificates can be granted only as long as the quota of tires allowed the board for issuance remains unused. All applications for tire replacement must be accompanied by the tire inspection record, on which periodical inspections have been made in the past.

No Deadline on Canning Sugar Applications

Applications for the balance of the 1944 canning sugar allowance can be made any time during the rest of 1944 or until February 28, 1945, said Kenneth West, Chairman of the Putnam County War Price and Ration Board. Misunderstanding has arisen concerning the time for making applications. Mr. West points out that they do not need to be made during May or any other specific month. Applications can be made at any time during the year when the need for sugar for canning purposes arises.

According to the regulations covering the 1944 allowance for canning, the maximum allowed for any person is twenty-five pounds. The first five pounds of this has been made available to every individual by declaring sugar stamp number 40 valid for 5 pounds of sugar. This stamp is good until February 1, 1945. The balance of the sugar for canning can be secured upon application with an allowance of twenty pounds per person.

Sugar obtained through application is for home canning and preserving only and must not be used for any other purpose.

Consumers should estimate some canning needs carefully and apply only for as much sugar as are sure of needing. If later in the season it is found that more is needed, another application for amounts, up to the maximum allowance of twenty pounds per person, can be made. The amount requested for each person should be shown to the nearest five pounds.

On the first application for SPARE STAMP NO. 37 from Ration Book 4 for each person whom application is made, a declaration can be approved. These stamps are attached to the ration book. A person applying for a spare stamp must have a spare stamp attached to the ration book. Only applications which have SPARE STAMP NO. 37 attached can be granted.

In case of second application made later in the season, the application showing the sum of the spare stamp no. 37 will be up to the maximum personal allowances. Subsequent applications therefore be made at the same time where the first application for 1944 canning sugar was made is on file.

Since the canning sugar is good until March 1945, consumers are urged to buy sugar as needed, rather than buying the full amount as soon as the coupons are received. The buying of the full season's sugar during a period immediately upon receipt of the coupon might cause a shortage. Sugar purchased over long periods of time is more readily available and less likely to be hoarded.

The canning sugar should be retained and the coupons used as needed. Consumers are urged to help their merchant supply of sugar on hand by making unusually large demands for one time. The sugar supply is expected for the 1944 canning season.

West, if used at a normal rate, consumers are asked to file applications for canning sugar week to ten days prior to the need, thus allowing sufficient time for the reviewing and approving the application and the issuing of coupons from the local office.

Coupons can not be secured immediately upon the presentation of the application, but will be mailed to the applicant as soon as possible after.

Among the fundamental conclusions arrived at through the united thinking of a half hundred selected Lutheran leaders in a recent conference were these: The primary responsibility for the betterment of human society rests with the Church; every individual Christian, pastor or layman, must share that responsibility; the great social problems of this or any age are wrong, evil results; therefore every evil, every corruption, every misery, and every injustice must finally be laid at the door of sin. Thus, the regeneration of man is the basic solution of social evils, and in this field the Church has a mission to correct them at the source. So why not accept the invitation and COME TO CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY?—D. Carl Yoder.

DO YOU KNOW?

1. What mother lent her child to the Lord?
2. What mother's son became next to a king of a foreign nation?
3. Of whom God said: "She shall be a mother of nations?"
4. What mother caused the healing of John the Baptist?
5. To whose mother did the beloved disciple give a home and care for as his own mother?

WIT AND WISDOM
Mother Exalted

A little girl at a Rally Day service was to give a short recitation of one line, "I am the light of the world." When she came to the platform she could remember only two words, "I am"—and then stopped. Her mother, prompting her, whispered, "I am the light of the world." Relieved, the child, with a smile, announced, "My mother is the light of the world."

THE BETTER WAY

An After Thought of Mother
"My mother was, if ever there was, a Saint of God, and I loved her with all my heart; and yet one morning, when a letter brought me the intelligence that the previous night she had gone to bed in perfect health, and yet before morning I had called her to Himself—then my first thought was how much kinder, how much more loving I might have been; how in ten thousand ways by word and deed, which would have cost me nothing, and which would have caused her a thrill of happiness, I might have brightened her earthly life. It was a bitter thought that, much as I loved her, I had not always been as kind to her as I might have been. I looked back with joy only to those occasions when I had not treated her love for me as a matter of course, but had shown by acts of kindness and gentleness how infinitely I valued her blessings and prayers."

A mother's love—how sweet the name!
What is a mother's love?
A noble, pure, and tender flame,
Enkindled from above,
To bless a heart of earthly mold.

NEWS IN THE WORLD
OF RELIGION
W. W. REID

This is the type of letter that Dr. Alfred W. Price, rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal church, Philadelphia, sends to "Mr. and Mrs. Now-and-Then," the occasional attendants at church: "I wonder if you realize how much your presence means to us. Some people feel that church attendance is chiefly a matter of getting; but in a real sense it is a matter of giving. You come to church to give something to the congregation—your cooperation and fellowship in the adventure of worship. Your presence is a moral and spiritual benefit to those present. Your absence is a distinct loss. No matter how many others are present, your presence and influence are sorely needed. Goodness and devotion are more easily caught than taught, and caught by association groups. Won't you give this angle of thought your consideration, and help make St. Stephen's church of ever-increasing usefulness in this community?"

"The Church and America's People" is the theme of a series of Monday noon radio addresses given during May and June by Dr. Mark A. Dawber, secretary of the Home Missions Council of North America. He is on the air each Monday at 12 to 12:15 p. m., Eastern War Time, over Station WJZ and associated stations of the Blue Network. His talks include discussions of Indian, Negro, Jewish, Japanese American, Alaskan, Puerto Rican, rural, city, and migrant peoples and problems under the American flag.

Protestant churches in the United States raised $1,559,991, through twenty-one denominations in 1943 for their united overseas relief program among non-military war sufferers, reports Dr. Leslie Bates Moss, director of the Church Committee on Overseas Relief and Reconstruction (297 Fourth Ave., New York City), the coordinating agency of these bodies. These same churches, he says, have a goal of $1,870,000 for 1944 to meet increasing needs. Included among the projects for which these funds are issued are: assistance to refugees from Axis countries (through the World Council of Churches in Geneva); printing of scriptures; special ministry to women and children war sufferers, especially in Greece, the Middle East, and Africa; rebuilding of some ruined churches; medicines and grain seeds for Chinese flood and famine victims; recreational and educational materials for prisoners of war; supplies for missionaries cut off from European "sending countries."

"The next twenty-five years will be of extreme importance to world order from the angle of racism," said a conference of Methodist churchmen meeting recently in Evanston, Ill., to consider worldwide problems of race prejudice and discrimination. "If there is to be a Christian solution, rather than a racial war, the Western nations must act quickly to change their attitudes of racial superiority as expressed through imperialism, exploitation, and discrimination. Unless they bring out racial changes in their political and economic thinking and practice Christianity will suffer a tremendous loss of influence. Christianity is on the threshold of great opportunity in the Far East, but it cannot win its peoples to Christ unless there is evidence of brotherly considerations on the part of the governments of the so-called Christian nations."

CATHOLIC INFORMATION

He proved His Divinity!
If Christ had not risen on the third day, He would not have fulfilled the prophecies. He would not have kept His promise. He would not have proved His Godhead—and on the fourth day Christianity would have been dead and forever buried.
He had to rise from the dead! And He did. On the third day the doubly-guarded tomb was empty and then, He, Whom they had seen dead on the cross, appeared to hundreds during the next forty days—talked with them, at with them and finally, before their eyes, ascended into Heaven.

In those days nobody doubted that He had risen. The enemies of Christ dared not deny it. The Apostles by preaching in converted 8,000 in two days and they and their successors established the Church throughout the entire civilized world in three centuries.

Today the unbiased must accept these things as historic facts. The Resurrection is told and retold by the most attacked, and therefore, most proved, history of all times—the Scriptures. It is attested also by the non-Christian historians of the first century, Flavius Josephus, who, in reporting Christ's death and burial, says, "He appeared alive again the third day."

The humanly-impossible conversion of the pagan world from its cult of pride, hate, greed and lust, to the religion of humility, love, self-denial and chastity, is written down by accepted pagan historians of those centuries. And reason tells us that this would not have been and could not have been, had not Christ risen from the dead to prove Him Godhead.

Easter is the Feast of the Resurrection—the Feast of the proof that Christ is God and His religion divine. A glorious day, a joyous day, a vital day for him who has his creed secured by fact as well as faith!

Facts! The Christians of the early centuries had them and used them to convert the world. Christians of today have these self-same facts which, if used in the same way, would put to flight the false prophets of whom Christ warned, and finally bring this world of ours back to the feet of Him who rose from the dead to prove Himself the Way, the Truth and the Life for every man.

IN MEMORY

In loving remembrance of our dear mother, Stella Wells, who departed this life four years ago, May 13, 1940.
We loved you dear Mother,
But the angels loved you more,
And we hope to meet again,
And never part no more.
We often sit and think of you
When we are all alone,
For memory is the only friend
That grief can call its own.
You shall never be forgotten,
Never shall our memory fade,
Sweetest thoughts will always linger
Around the grace where you are laid.
Sadly missed by Oscar Wells and family.

CLEVELANDER OHIO DEMOS' CHOICE

James G. Stewart

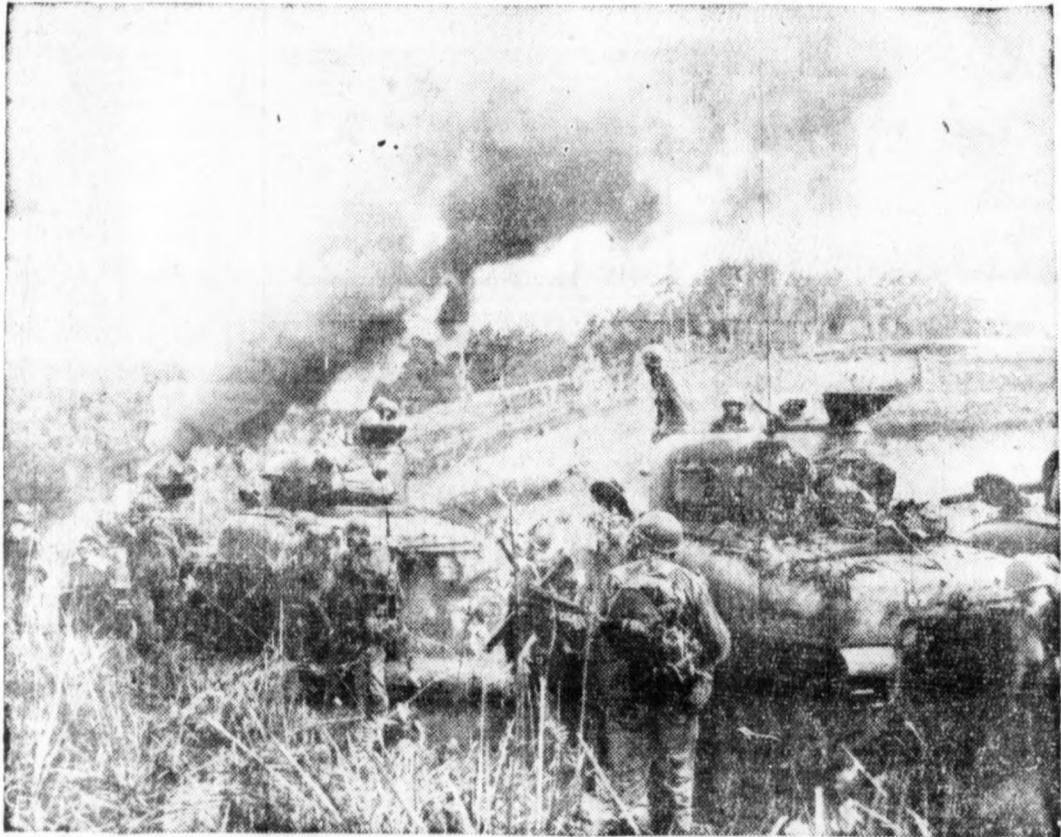

Frank J. Lausche

MAYOR FRANK J. LAUSCHE of Cleveland easily won the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in the Ohio primary. Just who of two Republicans would oppose Lausche in the November election had not yet been decided as Mayor James Garfield Stewart of Cincinnati and Ohio Attorney General Thomas J. Herbert of Cleveland staged a nip-and-tuck race for the GOP nomination. Trailing behind Stewart and Thomas Herbert in the late tabulation of the state's vote was another Herbert, Ohio Lieutenant Governor Paul M. Herbert of Columbus. Significant to political observers was the large increase in the Ohio Republican primary vote over the primary vote registered by the party two years ago. (International)

THIS BUTCHER HAS NO FAITH IN OPA REGULATIONS

APPARENTLY THIS WICHITA, KAN., BUTCHER has no faith in OPA regulations. Or perhaps he's just drumming up business. Anyway, the sign on the window, referring to OPA's recent ruling that no points now are required for many cuts of meat, caught the photographer's eye. (International)
